PALM READER STUDIO / FIELD GUIDE

Palm Feature Rule Book

Lines, small signs, mounts, hand proportions, left and right hands, and symbolic timing.

1730 rules | 12 categories | 49 source entries

A visual catalog and sourced historical rule collection for palm-photo observation, conservative scanning and optional cultural reflection. The October expansion researches 18 primary manuals, including Western texts and an English-language Indian compilation. It does not claim universal coverage of every tradition.

A reference for identifying visible features and building conservative image annotations. A catalog entry does not mean the feature can be detected automatically.

How to read this book

1. Confirm the view. Use one comfortably open palm. Identify thumb side, mirroring and the finger-to-wrist axis.

2. Observe the crease. Describe supported strokes before naming a major line, minor line or symbol. Do not complete a shape across blank skin.

3. Establish topology. Distinguish a cross from a Y, a six-ray star from dense texture, and a closed loop from a true split-and-rejoin island.

4. Establish location. Name the region and any actual line attachment separately. Approximate mount locations are guides, not measured hills.

5. Keep interpretation separate. Optional traditional themes and the editorial reflection questions are not established personal outcomes.

Detection key

Measured	Measured by the current major-line, orientation or workflow code. Visibility limits apply.
Candidate	The scanner can propose image-supported geometry; a person must confirm its identity.
Location guide	An approximate location map, not a detected mark or measured prominence.
Manual review	Cataloged for review; no automatic detector for the full rule.
Context / convention	Requires owner input or is a reading/workflow convention.
Needs other evidence	Cannot be established reliably from one frontal palm photo.
Source rule / review required	Source-extracted historical condition. The full wording, all qualifiers and the stated locations need human and detector review. No new personalized interpretation is enabled.

Present age and dominance require owner input. A palm photograph is not used to infer health, fertility, family size, lifespan, intelligence, criminality or sensitive personal traits.

October research expansion

1334 source-extracted conditions join 396 visual/workflow guides. The automatic scanner retains 500 active rule checks.

18 primary manuals / 364 retrieved documents / 77 repeated normalized source clauses merged.

Extract explicitly stated condition/association clauses from retrieved historical primary texts. Exclude incomplete, anecdotal, medical, lifespan, criminality and stigmatizing clauses. Normalize selected line aliases, articles, figure references and wording; merge equal normalized keys and preserve source variants. Related but differently qualified conditions still require semantic review. Do not create permutations to reach a target count.

These are source-extracted reference rules, not 1:1 unique new detector predicates. Some refine or restate existing rules. OCR and compound wording require human review; no new source clause is enabled in the interpretation engine.

Each addition declares a whole-condition review and all stated feature, location, capture and measurement requirements. A human review needs exact source IDs, the correct hand and photograph, the correct coordinate frame and actual geometry. Even an accepted annotation leaves interpretation disabled until its detector and executable predicate are reviewed.

Chapter and paragraph locators refer to the retrieved HTML blocks or OCR transcription. The online rule card and JSON export retain the original passage and retrieval SHA-256 digest. OCR wording and implied subjects can need clarification.

Visual grammar of small marks

Schematic definitions. These diagrams explain geometry; they are not scanner findings or claims that the marks occur in your palm.

Cross: 4 arms

Star: 6 arms

Branch: 3 arms

Terminal fork

Closed loop

Island: split + rejoin

Triangle: 3 corners

Square: 4 corners

Crescent: open arc

Grille: repeated crossings

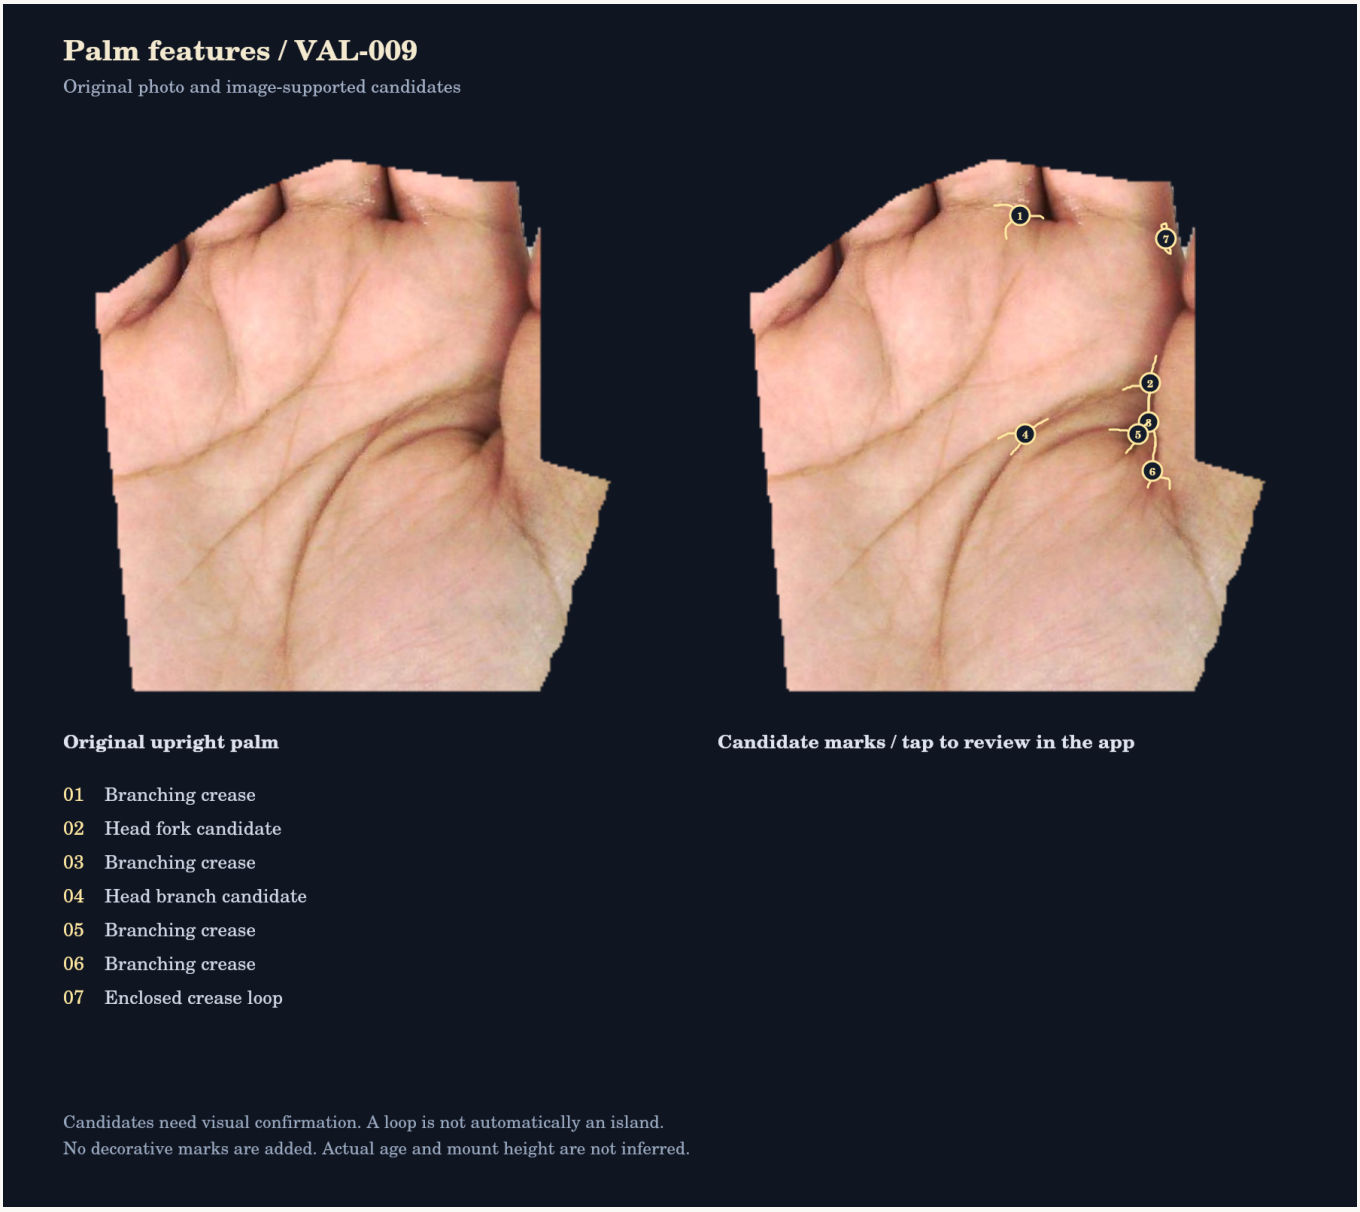
Trident: 3 prongs

Tassel: terminal fan

An isolated oval is a loop. To call it an island, verify that one named line splits into its two boundaries and then rejoins. A star needs distinct persistent rays from one compact center. A crescent-shaped mark, the Moon mount, the nail lunula and the age-map crescents are separate objects.

An actual palm, with candidates highlighted

Example: VAL-009, an existing calibration photo. The scanner uses the original pixels, with manually supplied hand landmarks for this offline check. This is not a new photo of the user.



The numbered yellow paths are candidate branching points, a possible fork and an enclosed crease loop. They are shown where the measured skeleton supports them. No supported star was found in this image. Mount locations appear in the app under a separate guide tab; they are not counted as detected marks.

Testing scope: synthetic topology checks plus offline image analysis on calibration palms. The checks establish pipeline behavior, not population accuracy. The user can inspect each candidate against the original photo.

Hands, orientation and age

16 rules. Recognition recipes and thresholds are original operational guidance. Consult the source register for historical terminology and research context.

context-left / Context / convention

Visible definition. Record the actual anatomical left hand, not the left side of the image.

timing-cheiro-time / Manual review

Cheiro timing convention

Visible definition. A historical radial/line-based method maps portions of lines to time.

Recognition. Read Part I, Chapter XIX and name its convention. Do not treat its dates as factual forecasts.

Source context: S8, S9, S21, S1, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

timing-benham-life-time / Context / convention

Benham life-line convention

Visible definition. One historical scheme marks ages 4, 6, 12, 18, 24, 30, 36, 43, 51, 60, 70.

Source context: S8, S9, S21, S1, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

timing-saint-time / Context / convention

Saint-Germain timing convention

Visible definition. A thread follows a life curve and is divided into historical timing sections.

Recognition. Document as folklore; do not fill a missing real line just because the book extends its imagined course.

False positives / limits. Its caution about exact dates still does not validate predictions.

Source context: S8, S9, S21, S1, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

timing-event-location / Manual review

Feature location along a line

Visible definition. A crossing, fork or reviewed mark has a geometric path fraction.

Recognition. Attach a mark to the measured path and report a fraction or section, not a factual event year.

False positives / limits. Nearest proximity is not necessarily true attachment.

Source context: S8, S9, S21, S1, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

timing-uncertainty / Measured

Timing uncertainty

Visible definition. Incomplete traces and convention differences change symbolic marker placement.

Recognition. Withhold labels on poorly supported paths; state symbolic use plainly.

False positives / limits. A plus/minus range must not look like validated predictive accuracy.

Source context: S8, S9, S21, S1, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

timing-lifespan / Context / convention

No lifespan rule

Visible definition. The extent of a life crease is not used to predict death or lifespan.

Recognition. Do not generate an endpoint-as-death statement for any line or mark.

False positives / limits. Historical texts often make claims the scanner cannot support.

Source context: S8, S9, S21, S1, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

timing-date / Context / convention

No exact event-date rule

Visible definition. A palm photo does not establish a day, month or year for a life event.

Recognition. Exclude exact-date forecasts from personalized outputs.

False positives / limits. User age plus geometric division still does not validate a forecast.

Source context: S8, S9, S21, S1, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

Photo and detection rules

capture-whole-hand / Measured

Visible definition. Every fingertip and the wrist are in frame with the palm facing the camera.

Recognition. Use a plain background, steady phone and relaxed open palm.

False positives / limits. Missing landmarks make orientation and region guides unreliable.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-five-views / Measured

Five-image capture

Visible definition. A full-hand overhead photo, palm close-up and three moderate oblique views show the same relaxed hand.

Recognition. Keep the hand still and move the phone: full hand straight overhead, palm close-up straight overhead, thumb-side angle about 20–30°, little-finger-side angle about 20–30°, wrist-side angle about 20–25°. Include every fingertip and the wrist except in the palm close-up.

False positives / limits. Do not change hands or finger spacing. Angle targets are practical capture guidance, not a validated reconstruction optimum.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-closer / Context / convention

Closer view

Visible definition. Move the phone down a little while retaining all fingertips and the wrist.

Recognition. Make the palm larger in native pixels and tap to focus.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-farther / Context / convention

Farther view

Visible definition. Raise the phone a little so the whole hand is smaller with more surrounding background.

Recognition. Use it as a framing alternative, not as extra skin detail.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-side-view / Manual review

Edge view for union lines

Visible definition. A separate image reveals the little-finger edge surface.

Recognition. Keep side views for human review; the current full-palm model may reject them.

False positives / limits. Do not fuse a side view into a frontal crease map.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-light / Manual review

Soft even light

Visible definition. Light resolves grooves without large glare patches or hard hand shadows.

Recognition. Use diffuse daylight or another even source; compare at unchanged exposure.

False positives / limits. Harsh flash saturates skin and deepens false dark edges.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-focus / Measured

Native crease detail

Visible definition. The original image contains actual sharp groove detail.

Recognition. Use the quality review and select the best original; zooming a thumbnail adds no detail.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-best-original / Measured

Best original selection

Visible definition. The scanner analyzes the clearest usable capture.

False positives / limits. Fusion could invent a double line from misalignment.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-boundary / Measured

Palm boundary exclusion

Visible definition. Features are analyzed inside the hand/palm mask.

Recognition. Exclude silhouettes and require candidate centers to have an interior margin.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-ridge-support / Candidate

Measured ridge support

Visible definition. Candidate strokes follow locally dark groove evidence.

Recognition. Reject arms without sufficient ridge support; never complete symbols with decorative strokes.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-topology / Candidate

Connected topology

Visible definition. Cross, branch and loop names follow a connected crease graph.

Recognition. Suppress diagonal pixel shortcuts, merge only compact supported junction centers, and require persistent arms.

False positives / limits. Dense texture and weak fourth arms change junction class.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-review / Measured

Visible definition. The owner can inspect numbered paths on the original upright palm close-up.

Recognition. Tap a finding to isolate it and read observation, caveat and rule reference.

False positives / limits. A vivid heat map is contrast visualization, not a probability of a trait.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-support / Context / convention

Support score

Visible definition. A heuristic summarizes image evidence used by a detection.

Recognition. Keep internal support separate from meaning or predictive accuracy; do not show it as a validated probability.

capture-negative / Measured

No fabricated symbols

Visible definition. A scan can contain no cross, no star, or no minor-line candidate.

Recognition. Keep missing families empty and recommend better light if needed.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-privacy / Context / convention

On-device analysis

Visible definition. Photo analysis runs in the user's browser in this site.

Recognition. Do not add image uploads merely to expand the rule catalog.

Source context: S25, S26, S31. Geometry specification: original editorial.

capture-limits / Context / convention

Unimplemented feature

Visible definition. A catalog entry can exist without an automatic detector.

Recognition. Label it manual review, context input or not measurable. Catalog size is not detection coverage.

False positives / limits. Do not call all rules detected because their names are in the book.

Source register and research scope

Visual definitions, measurement recipes, false-positive checks and reflection prompts are original operational guidance. New source-extracted conditions retain chapter/paragraph locators, source wording and retrieval digests. They remain review-only; quoted associations do not validate personal interpretations or detector thresholds.

The sources below are not equivalent evidence. Historical primary texts document what their authors taught; anatomical research addresses crease morphology; technical sources address image analysis. The user-provided Persian reference was checked visually in selected pages, not fully translated.
